

The location

Is it possible to find a place to live that offers everything you love? Some people seek for a lifetime to find their ideal spot. But for those who discover Las Torrentas, the search ends and contentment begins.

Surrounded by pinewood forests and soaring mountains, Las Torrentas is a tranquil haven tucked away in the heart of Murcia - a beautiful region in south east Spain.

Yet, if you want to seek out the hustle and bustle of everyday life, it is never far away. Just a few kilometres outside of the resort, you'll find the lively town of Calasparra; in a 40 minute drive you can be in the cosmopolitan city of Murcia; while in just over an hour you can be relaxing on one of the Blue Flag white beaches of Costa Calida.

Las Torrentas is serviced by regular flights from the UK into San Javier or Alicante airports, both of which are just over an hour's drive away.

* Completion expected in 2008